The News office furnished about 10,000 copies of the President's Message. Our market is rather dull just at

Mr. Davies' lecture at Commons' Hall Tuesday ight, on what he say and learned at Denver, was attended by an appreciative audience. We did not have the pleasure of hearing him, but learn that his lecture was most interesting.

The adjournment of Conference and the leaving of many of the attendants upon the Grand Lodge of Masons have lessened somewhat the crowd that has been in our city for the past week or two. But still Raleigh is quite well full of strangers.

We are requested by Capt. Ful-ghum, late Secretary of the North Carolina Agricultural Society, to again call attention to his advertisement concerning a rug lost at the State Fair. The rug is owned by Mrs. Beauford Cheek, of Halifax county, and is prized more on account of its extrinsic than its intrinsic value. Any information concerning it will be thankfully received by Capt. Fulghum.

As the Christmas holidays commence eyes that would not sean the advertising columns of a daily paper before, eagerly look to them to find where to purchase and what to buy. and the most attractive list is very certain to be marked or cut out, or some wished-for article carried in the memory to be examined, priced and debated over in the morning walk. Our advertisers will, therefore, find it to their advantage to send in their advertisements at an early day.

THE HANDSOMEST MEMBER.-The question as to who is the handsomest member of the General Assembly excites no general interest, but the ladies have an especial interest in the matter, and we therefore p pander to their taste, as well as to the "naughty, naughty, men." Soon after the meeting of the General Assembly we nominated Mr. Wiley, of Washington, for the position, but the race is so hotly contested by the gentleman from Transylvania, Mr. Gash, that we now propose to withdraw our nominee, and nominate Capt. John son, of Rockingham, in his Capt. J. is no "spring chicken," but he is nevertheless unmarried, and is on the carpet.

WHAT THEY SAY OF US.-A correspondent of the Hilisborough Recorder writes to his paper as follows: "Raleigh is busy, likewise as a cot-ton market. The streets devoted to the business are filled up so as to be almost impassible, and the receipts this year will reach 40,000 bales. Raleigh is no doubt the best cotton market in the State, and although prices everywhere at present are low, still they are known to be proportionally better here than elsewhere, and consequently there is no falling off in receipts. More at another time, for I have already, I fear, exceeded your limits. Yours, D.

TAKE YOUR CITY PAPER.-The Daily NEWS, the largest daily paper ever published in North Carolina, is delivered to city subscribers at only $7 per annum, and mailed to subscribers at the same price. Remember that it costs less than two cents a day to take the paper; less than a diligent hen would earn in a year, at the market price of eggs; less than one cigar a week and a very cheap one at that; less than the barber would charge by the year to keep your hair trimmed; less than an energetic kitchen girl will waste in a week. A penny a day can be saved in many a way better than by stopping a family same on that day. JORDAN STONE,

Manager of the NEWS. PERSONNEL OF THE N. C. CON-FERENCE.—A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal, writing from this city during the recent sitting of the North Carolina Conference, says: "We are guests at that grand hotel, the Yarborough House, under the management of that prince of landlords, Dr. Geo. W. Blacknall. Of course we are comfortable after dinger and feel like management of the landlords." ner, and feel like making some very charitable notes of this day's sights in the Conference room. The first man after the Bishop upon whom your eye falls as you enter the church, is the Secretary of the Conference, Rev. B. Craven, D. D., President of Trinity College. This gentleman has been Secretary of the Conference for some ten years; he seems to have the routine or the business entirely in hand, and no call for a paper, in formation, or reports of former Conferences can be made without his responding promptly. In fact, he seems to have everything at hand. In person. Dr. Craven is of the medium height, his figure is well set up, finely built, and be looks like he has a con stitution of iron, nevertheless "the snows of many winters" begin to show amongst his black locks, and a certain coy handling of a pair of spectacle indicates that perhaps "the windows of the soul" are getting dim, but there is a mine of hard work windows of the soul" as high and massive brow ites a powerful intellect, and capaof enduring great and protracted

As a preacher, Dr. Craven is noted nore for power than polish, yet there are times when he seems to revel in the flowers of fancy, paint familiar objects and gather up home scenes in such a way as to touch all the tender-est sympathies of the heart. Such was his mood at the last Conference in Fayetteville. While preaching in the Baptist church, he depicted the scenes of a North Carolina home in such a manner that the whole congregation melted into tears, even "unused to the crying mood," uniting with the rest of the congregation. Doctor Craven is assisted by three able Assistant Secretaries, but he keeps the journal of pro-ceedings and does all the current work of the day. Business flows on in one uninterrupted current, and yet the Secretary seems to be not very busy, but ready to chat with any body. To the right of the Bishop, and just outside the altar rail, seated behind a small table, is the Senior Editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate. From the pile of greenbacks on the table and the set of large books, ledgers, &c., one would think he had established a bank of discount and deposit. present it seems to be all deposit for, as member after member leans over his table, the pile grows and the busy pencil which notes the deposit flies with increased rapidity. It is thought by some that this system of deposits has brought quite a "pile f greenbacks to his credit in bank, but as he is known to be one of the most charitable and liberal of men, there is some doubt on point. Some assert that "his heart is as great as his body.' doubt it, for his body stands six feet two in his stockings, and is well formed, a little inclined to that editorial failing, emconpoint, but not approaching the Falstaffian style. His weight, suppose, is about 230 pounds, and he is one of the youngest looking men n the Conference-his fresh complexion, light soft hair and smooth cheeks creating that impression. He speaks with great modesty and in a clear but rather subdued voice, and rarely heard on any subject, evidently preferring the pen to the tongue, as being the mightiest weapon. The Junior Editor, Robert T. Gray, Esq., is not much in the Conference room. He is a medium sized, fine looking, young man, quick and sprightly, both with pen and tongue. As one of the morning papers announced that he is a candidate for matrimony, we will not injure his prospects by telling how many times he offered us some fine planta tion cigars, nor whether he smoked every time we did. He a is pleasant man and in matters matrimonial we should consider, as theold Elders say here in making reports about their preachers, "he is a safe chance." LEGISLATIVE .- In the Senate yesrday a bill was introduced looking the celebration of the Centennial n Charlotte next year. A committee was appointed to report by resolution or otherwise some plan of ney, for the Government. furthering this object. It is to be hoped that North Carolina will celebrate in a becoming manner the coming Centennial. A bill was also introduced in the same body asking the Supreme Court to decide as early as possible upon the constitutionality of the Constitutional Amendments adopted in 1872. This decision, it is thought, will have much influence upon the Convention question.

In the House but little business was transacted, the calendar being exhausted at an early hour. The committees of the two Houses are busily at work, and an honest effort is evidenced to work in earnest.

MAJ. A. M. FINGER,-The resolution in regard to the State debt, published by us yesterday, introdu the House, was presented by Maj. A. M. Finger, the able Representative from Catawba. In our report of the resolution we negligently left out the last clause, which provides that the Commissioners appointed shall report to the present General Assembly at the earliest practicable moment after its assembling after the Christmas holidays. Maj. Finger, in his resolution, means business, and from the tenor of the resolution it seems to be his opinion that the present General Assembly should dispose of this matter of the State debt.

THE PASSAGE OF THE AMNESTY Act.-The Hillsborough Recorder in an article on the passage of the Amnesty Act says:

"At a time when the spirit of Peace seems again to be brooding over the land, and the benign influences of a kindlier feeling begin to diffuse themselves throughout our country, it was most appropriate that the voice of forgiveness should go out from the Halls of North Carolina legislation, and that her banished, repentant and suffering sons should at length find a balm for their sorrows, and a rest

from their wanderings.
It is therefore with peculiar gratifi-cation that we announce that the long deferred measure of mercy has at length been meeted out, and that, so far at least as the House of Representatives is concerned, Amnesty and pardon is an accomplished fact. Why it has been delayed so long, might be inferred from the opposition that met the benignant effort even at this late day. It is to be regretted that the intensity of party hate, or that the intensity of party hate, or the stringency of party drill should have developed so persistent a spirit of resistance as was shown by Mr. Barnett. It is equally a cause of grat-ification, that Mr. Boyd, of the same party, came out in bold, manly, lib-eral and effective advocacy of the bill. Party no longer had chains for him, when the vision of a suffering him, when the vision of a suffering constituency arose before his eyes, and true to his pledges, and true to his genuine impulses, he defled party allegiance, that justice might pre-

Vail This much for the opposite party. Of the speakers on our side, we can scarcely speak within the bounds of moderate praise. Mr. Staples seemed elevated by a sublime spirit of charity, by a noble warmth of generosity, by a comprehensive statesmanship, which fired him into flights of spor taneous eloquence and pathos, which might carry conviction to every heart and every mind. Certainly none but the most callous, none but the most enthralled in partizan bitterness, failed to be touched by his appeals, or remained unconvinced under his arguments, coming hot from his heart, and irrepressible from erful, and he at once carned in a body which is in so great a degree a new one the character for intellectual ower and of gifts of oratory which him prominent rank among e leaders of the House.

Mr. Mendenhall, in the true spirit of his persuasion, accepted the olive branch and urged oblivion for the past in the true spirit of Christian eharity.

Mr. Strong closed with a legal demonstration of great force, which satisfied the House at once of its powers in the premises. And so the great fact is accomdished, and we extend our heartfelt thanks to those who have brought it about, our sincere congratulations to those who are again allowed to breathe the breath of freedom.' THE STATE DEST .- There is no matter of more general importance to the people than the question of the State debt, and they are watching with intense interest every action in regard thereto taken by the Legis lature. We propose therefore to report in full every measure proposed or adopted concerning this important subject. The following resolution was offered by Mr. Reid, of Mecklenburg, in the House on Monday, and was referred to the Figance Commit-sion or a majority of the same. FEDERAL COURT.-The following cases were heard in the Federal Court yesterday, Judge Brooks presiding: United States vs. William Tate-Indicted for improperly taking letter from the mail-Verdiet guilty. W. H. Young, Assistant District Attor-

The Court then adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow, when Sessoms case will be resumed. FALSE RUMOR .- A rumor having obtained circulation to the effect that. the old and well known Boyden. House at Salisbury, under the agement of Messrs. Rowzee and Mills, was about to change hands, we take this occasion to say that we have received a letter from the firm, saying that the report is without foundation. Under its present management this house has won an enviable reputation, and we are glad to know that its gentlemanly proprietors find the patronage sufficiently encouraging to keep them going, and that they have not the most remote idea. selling out.

GRAND LODGE F. & A. M.-This Lodge was occupied yesterday in matters purely Masonical. Last night the new officers were installed, the following in addition to those named last night who were yesterday appointed by the Grand Master: D. G. M.—C. A. Cilley, of Lincoln. G. C.—F. L. Reid, of Franklin. G.S. D.-J. W. Cotton, of Edgeing of the Superintendent for the past year was most cordially en-dorsed, and he was unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year. The proposition to establish another Asy-lum at Mars' Hill, Madison county, was endorsed, as also the establishing of a weekly paper for the dissemination of matter pertaining to the workings of the Orphau Asylum.

The Grand Lodge will meet again this morning at 10 a.m.

A HEALTHY EXHIBIT OF WAKE COUNTY FINANCES.—The new Demo-cratic Board of Wake County Commissioners went into office on the 7th of September last. At that time the county had a floating debt of some $15,000 and her scrip sold at from 75 to 80 cents on the dollar. The new Board has paid some $12,000 of her debt, has in hand some $6,000 in cash, has paid the State all due her for the present year, and still has due upon the taxes of the present year, including the school fund, some $21,000, and the county scrip is now at par. There is yet due from ex-Sheriff Lee some $35,000. We call this a most healthy exhibit, and point to it with pleasure as one of the real results of that Democratic victory which we won in August last and which has since swelled up over the whole country.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC—A SHORT POST-PONEMENT OF THE FIFTH GIFT CONCEST.—As manager of the gift concerts given in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, my posi ion creates an important trust in behalf of the Public Library and the ticket-holders of the fifth gift concert. The Public Library of Kentucky and the ticket-holders of the fifth gift concert. The Public Library of Kentucky and the ticket-holders are jointly interested in the amount of the drawing. I deem it due to the trust confided to me by the ticket-holders and the Public Library of Keutucky, that a short postponement be made to enable me to dispose of the unsold tickets and have a full drawing. Though the very large amount now in bank would enable us to distribute handsome gifts, yet we should feel disappointed in this our last e meert, should we be compelled to make a fractional drawing, however large.

We have received so very large a number of letters from ail parts of the count y from the se most largely interested, urging a postponement if all the lickets be not sold by the 3th, that we feel strengthened in our sense of duty to the ticket-holders and the Public Library, to make the postponement. THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND THE NEGRO.

The Republican press of the country is beginning to show the fact that their party has found a veritable "elephant" in the negro, with which they are sadly at a loss how to deal. Lately the New York Times and Chicago Tribune have been administering some advice to the "man and brother," which is often exceedingly significant in character. The Times very plainly intimates that the continued existence of the Republican party, and the good of the negro as well, demand that he should cease to act with a single political organization and divide his strength between the two great parties of the country.

Speaking of civil rights and of the effect produced by the measure upon the late election, the Chicago Tribune, which has lately returned to full fellowship in the Republican

"The Republican party should take heed of it. There is enough for It to do in a political way without trenching upon the dangerous ground of socialism. It will be time enough to pass more laws for the protec tion of the colored man when it shall become evident that his political rights as a citizen are in jeopardy. Till then let us leave the question of his social standing to be worked out by his own good behavior and material progress The Tribune is also of the opinion that a division of the colored forces, in the political contests of the country, is advisable. The recommendations of the Times and Tribune are gratuitous. The Democratic party has demonstrated its power to control the political destinies of the nation. We wish the negro no harm; but, for the present at least, we prefer that he shall remain where he is.

ARKANSAS.

The opposition of the Arkansas Republicans to the GARLAND government is based, as we understand it, upon that feature in the old constitution of the State which provides for changes and revision of the instrument itself. By the old instrument but one method of amendment was provided for, to-wit: by the adoption of the amendments by two successive legislatures and their subsequent ratification by the people at the polls. The new constitution of the State, under which Gov. GARLAND and his associates make claim to the offices of the State, was not, however, so adopted. It was the work of a a convention of the people of the State, which convention assembled under an act of the lawful General Assembly of the commonwealth. There is no express provision in the constitution for the assembling of such a body: and for that reason, SMITH, the absconding claimant for the Governorship, and his faithful ally, Judge the passage of the bill necessary to McClure, popularly known as restore the drooping fortunes of the "Poker Jack," oppose the GARLAND Republican party, it will become a government, and seek installation for their own political associates. This was Judge POLAND's basis of opposition. Judge Jameson, the author of a popular treatise upon Constitutional Conventions, has written a letter upon the subject, in which he argues that the GARLAND government is the lawful government of the State. His position is, that the specification of one method of amendment does not exclude amendment by another mode. In other words, he holds that the right to call a convention of the people of the State, when the constitution provides for amendment by the legislative method only, is inherent in the General Assembly; and that the act of the Arkansas Legislature, ordering the assembling of a convention for constitutional revision, was legal in every sense; and in consequence that the government established by that convention, or by virtue of any of its ordinances, is the lawful government and deserves recognition. Twenty-six instances of revision by the means adopted by the peo ple of Arkansas are cited, to which may be added the case of the late convention of the people of the State of Pennsylvania. The constitution of that State had no provision for the calling of a convention, and yet the Legislature did call one, which assembled, and did its work, which is everywhere recognized as lawful and binding. This was the case in North Carolina, also, previous to the assembling of the Convention of 1835.

If Judge Jameson's reasoning be sound, Gov. GARLAND was lawfully elected, and the efforts of SMITH and McCLURE are likely to prove fruitless. We should be glad to see the State relieved from her difficulties. She has been sadly torn by dissensions, and must have suffered grievously in a material way.

CANTWELL THE COSTLY!

The entire session of the Senate on Tuesday was occupied by the Senator from New Hanover in the discussion of the civil rights resolution, introduced by him, as a substitute, for certain resolutions recently adopted by the House of Representatives. The cost of the discussion was somewhat in excess of one thousand dollars. It was money most uselessly wasted, and for the waste the Republican minority in the General Assembly is respon-

There was no purpose upon the part of the Democratic members to legislate upon the subject. They desired to save the people of the State the expense incident to the discussion that would inevitably follow the introduction of the subject. The original resolution was introduced into the House by Mr. TRIVETT, of Ashe, a Republican. For this a substitute, declaring that the people of the State and nation had set the seal of their condemnation upon the measure in November, and expressing gratitude and gratification at that result, was offered by Mr. MEARS. After two days of debate the substitute was adopted and sent to the Senate for concurrence. When read in the Senate, a substitute, endorsing, with specified exceptions, the civil rights bill and asking its passage by Congress, was offered by Mr. CANT-WELL, the Senator from New Hanover, and afterwards upon motion the whole matter was postponed until Tuesday, at 11 o'clock, and made the special order for that hour. According to the order it came up for consideration Tuesday. Mr. CANTWELL took the floor in advocacy of his amendment, and occupied it until the arrival of the hour for adjournment. The Conservative Senators, having previously agreed upon an afternoon session to prevent the prolongation of the debate into the session of. yesterday, moved for a recess until 3 p. m., which motion prevailed At 3 o'clock, the Senator from New Hanover resumed his argument, if we must dignify with that title some of the drearist platitudes and veriest twaddle which ever afflicted the ears of mortal man, and only closed with the coming of nightfall. He was briefly answered by Senators STANFORD and LINNEY. At the conclusion of the remarks of the latter, a vote was had, when the substitute was rejected and the House resolution passed without amendment.

We have given this piece of legislatiue history, that the people of North Carolina may see who it is that is obstructing legislation at their cost. There was not the slightest necessity for the considereration of a civil rights resolution by the Legislature. If the dominant party in Congress shall deem law; if, on the contrary, reading rightly the lesson taught them by the November elections, they shall determine that it would be dangerous to pass it, it will be permitted to remain where placed at the close of the last session, upon the table of the Speaker.

We urge our friends in the Legisislature not to waste time and money on these unnecessary matters. When a bill, or resolution, obviously useless is introduced let it promptly be tabled. The people will judge rightly of their motives.

Cremation.

Another very satisfactory crema-tion has been performed at Dresden, in the very same furnace employed for the consumption of Lady Dilke's body. Again the body was that of a lady, the wife of a German physician. The solemnity due to such a cere-mony was closely observed. The hall around the furnace was decorated with flowers, but so unreasonable and prevalent was the prejudice against this means of disposing of the dead lady's remains that no clergyman could be found to speak a burial address over her body, and this lack was supplied by Herr Siemunds, the constructor and proprietor of the oven, who made an appropriate and im-pressive speech. The process of cre-mation was screened from the eyes of the lady's friends by an iron door, but opportunity was given a limited number of scientific men to witness the transformations as they took place. These gentlemen described the spectacle as free from anything offensive to the senses or the or unsightly change in the appear-ance of the body. After the coffin was consumed the corpse appeared, first in its natural state, and rapidly passed into the successive stages of red and translucent white heat, and from the latter condition crumbled into ashes. In seventy-eight minutes all organic matter was gone, and all that remained was a small heap of ashes, which were gathered into an urn. This is decidedly the most successful experiment yet recorded, and if the perfection in the methods of cremation which this promises can be attained, this process of disposing of the dead will become rapidly popular in spite of the strenuous opposition that is made to it.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR UNIFORM. The Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States has de-cided to prescribe no radical change in the uniform of Templars. The white dress, distinguished by the baldric plume and gauntlets, now worn by the great number of Tem-plas, are confirmed as the regulation dress, but it was agreed that what is known as the black uniform, such as is worn in Massachusetts and Rhode Island may still be worn, at the op-tion of those having that style of dress in use. The next triennial conclave of Templars will meet in Cleveland.

One of the most marked features of the President's recent talk to Congress is the persistent manner in hich he, throughout, endeavors to throw the responsibility on Congress. In several places he plainly indicates that the honorable body aforesaid has not heretofore exactly "come up to the scratch," and some of the language addressed by Grant to these magnates of the nation is of a character that plain people would be greatly tempted to call "snubbing."

POLONIUS' ADVICE TO

It will be remembered by Shakespearan readers in the play of Hamlet, the advice of Polonius to his son Laertes, who was just in the act of leaving Denmark for a journey to France, wherein he said:
"Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, but not expressed in fancy; rich not gaudy but not expressed in fancy; rich not gand—for the apparel of proclaims the man &c., &c.
Ministers from the pulpit have said that every young man should paste in his hat the remarks in full of Polonius.

CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE.-The oprietors of the Cleveland Herald ave recently applied an apparatus their office chimney which is claimed to be a perfect preventive of smoke and a great saver of fuel. The covery, which the Levald thinks a very valuable one, was purely idental. A mechanic of that city s trying to secure a better draft for luggish fire, and the thought ocred to him, after other devices had failed, to try the effects of steam. A small pipe was made to conduct the team" from the top of the ler to the upper part of the furnace, h it entered in two small jets, triking downward on the burning No sooner was the steam in into the furnace than the slug en, smoky fire sprang up into a ear, bright yellowish and intensely t flame, filling the whole furnac ith a loud roar. The man found he not only secured a strong draft, at something much more important smokeless fire. As an experiment the apparatus was attached to the furnice of the Herald engine, which was converted from a neighborhood nuisance of smoke and soot into a smokeless fire.

THE CONDITION OF THE NECROES From the St. Louis Republican.] that the condition of the Southern regroes is not at all what could be sired, is possibly true. But that hey are in a worse condition than mass of working people in some the Northern and Eastern States a matter that admits of doubt. The h is that, as a general rule, in all Southern States the colored popuion are freer, labor less, and enjoy more, than the working classes Pennsylvania, New York, or any tern State. The miners of the kawanna the shoemakers of New land, the laborers in the Jersey teries, labor more continuously re fewer of the comforts of life, and bound to heavier shackles than negroes of the South. NOON DISPATCRES.

The Fight at Vicksburg. CINCINNATI, Dec. 9.—The Times Vicksburg dispatches say the fight was renewed at Suyder's Bluff, 10 miles from the city, last evening, between several hundred negroes and forty whites. A courier was sent to Vicksburg for reinforcements, which were sent out without delay, and after a short skirmish four negroes were killed and three wounded, whereupon the negroes retreated. Last night the negroes drove in the white pickets from Ford Hill, and it is said, have entrenched themselves there. They are receiving large reinforcements from other counties. At last accounts they were marching on the city up the Issaquena road and driving the whites before them. They fired into a funeral procession wounding one white man, the fire was returned and three negroes were

MANUFACTURERS OF

LIQUID ENAMEL PAINT. BRADLEY'S PATENT

MADE FROM Pure 'A hite Lead, Linseed Oil and Zinc, and Always Ready for Use.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS:

From Prot. W. G. Simmons, Wake Forest College, North Carolina. WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, N. C., October 4, 1873. Mr. C. P. Knight—Dear Sir: We have for several months been using your Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint on our College Building, and are well pleased with it. Though it was applied by one having no experience in such work, yet we have a good job. We shall continue to use it—believing that in point of economy, durability and facility of application, it is superior to any other pigment offered in the market.

W. G. SIMMONS.

From Messrs. Engelhard & Saunders. Editors and Proprietors Journal. WILMINGTON, N. C., December, 26, 1873. We desire to call especial attention to the advertisement of "Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint." We can recommend it from a knowledge of its merits. Some of the employees of this office having purchased some of this paint from Mr. C. P. Knight, of Baitimore, have used it and speak in the highest terms of it, after a trial of several months. While it is as durable as ordinary paint, it has a much finer finish, and its cost and convenience will recommend it to all in need of paint.

From S. McGill, M. D.

THE PLAINS, FAQUIER Co., VA., Feb. 6, 1873.

Mr. C. P. Knight—Sir: The paint came safe to hand as ordered, 2 kegs, 5 gallon each, and 3 buckets, 1 gallon each. As practice was slack, I did the job myself. Two weeks (not constant work) completent ze house, two coats; the last coat I applied thick, and it is now generally conceded that, for "enamel," like hardness, and body and harmony of colors, there is not a handsomer job in the place. I have saved sixty-five dollars by the operation—which is an item just now with the Southern people. It should be generally adopted in this State. Any country lad can apply it. I have never dabbled in such stock as "testimonials," but I feel so forcibly the great adaptability of your "Enamel Paint" to the wants of our people—in excellency of material, in beauty of color, and in the fact of its being "ready mixed," that I give you permission (if it is desirable to you) to make what use you think proper of this letter.

Very respectfully and truly,

S. McGILL, M. D. Always ready for use and easily applied. Sold by the gallon. One gallon covers wenty square yards, two coats.
